

Woman's Work

Woman's

Weak

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and refresh the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic like like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For the trouble is peculiar to women at change of season, climate or life, or resulting from hard work, nervousness, and impure blood.

Thousands have found relief and cure in

Free Trade Rally

The capacity of the Boston Herald for deception seems to be limitless. For several days past it has been trying to manufacture a scare by the suggestion that the tariff men in the next Congress will yield to the silver men in order to get a protective measure adopted. It says: "If they do not concede a free coinage they may agree to a second Sherman bill." The history of the Sherman bill and its repeal are matters of interest in this connection. The law was a compromise forced upon Congress by the desperate attempt of the Democratic party for the interest of free coinage. It was afterward made the subject of attack by the Administration which, in order to hide the real cause of the business depression in the country, inaugurated the cry against the Sherman bill. A special session of Congress was called for the purpose of securing its repeal, and a Democratic President was forced to rely upon Republican votes to carry out his program. While the Republicans fully realized the purpose of the Administration in its attack upon the law, and were entirely satisfied that it had nothing to do with the business depression, a fact clearly demonstrated when the law was repealed, still it did not seem to them to be a necessary step to the more radical measures suggested by the Democrats at the time of its passage, and they were willing to aid in its repeal. The Democrats on the other hand, grasped the opportunity to force through a free coinage scheme and as a matter of fact gave a party majority in both branches in favor of a free silver substitute.

The very incident the Herald cites with a careful suppression of the facts in connection therewith, demonstrates the single purpose of the Republican party to look to the welfare of the country. Had it been disposed to play for political position, here was the opportunity. The Democratic party was responsible for legislation. It had already planned the country into the worst of business depression in its history, and was fully determined to add to its record of disaster the monumental sin of free coinage. A Democratic President was elected, slightly falsifying the real situation of the Government in the interest of the political game he was playing for the purpose of deceiving the people, thus founding a new pretext for the Republicans to permit the Democratic party to work out its own destruction. But the Republican party is not contented on those lines. It was not willing that the country should suffer the additional disturbance sure to follow the enactment of free silver legislation, and ignoring the fact of responsibility and disregarding the petty partisanship of the President, not only furnished the votes necessary to repeal the Sherman bill, but to prevent the Democrats from passing a free coinage substitute. This is the party which the Herald hypocritically pretends to think is going to surrender to the silver men in order to get a protective measure adopted. When the present session, after the House had passed the emergency revenue bill to meet the Democratic deficit, the Democratic-Republican combination substituted the free coinage measure what was the answer of the overwhelming majority of the Republican Senators? Look to the record. When the proposition was made to let the emergency bill pass with a free coinage amendment, or to substitute the McKinley law with a free coinage amendment, what was the reply of the Republican Senators? An emphatic no. What was the answer of the Republican House when the free coinage substitute was sent back? It was buried under an avalanche of amendments and a counter-measure was passed. The view of the Republican House of the House of Representatives was clearly shown. The Republican House of Representatives was clearly shown.

THE BOYS IN BLUE

Observe Memorial Day With Impressive Exercises.
Very Tenderly.

The graves of fallen comrades despoiled
Very Tenderly.

Elaborate Orations Delivered at City Hall
In the Evening.

Memorial Day was observed in this city Saturday with impressive ceremonies by the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps. Many steps and public offices were closed during the day and the city had an air of solemnity throughout.

The comrades of the Grand Army and the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps met early in the morning and at 9.30 o'clock the Bangor band, the Maine Rifles, the High School Cadets and the Sons of Veterans, formed a procession and marched to the city hall.

At about the same time the Mt. Pleasant detachment of the G. A. R. comrades took the electric cars for that ceremony and held impressive exercises. They were carried out under the direction of Commander David B. H. Beale, No. 12.

The roll of honor was read by Commander Flynn and the graves were de-spilled by a detachment from B. H. Beale Post. After the ceremonies the detachment returned by the cars.

At 1.30 P. M. the band of the Women's Relief Corps took barges at the G. A. R.
Home on Columbia street and drove to Mt. Hope at the same time the High School Cadets and Sons of Veterans took the B. O. & O. cars for the cemetery and they were followed by the cadets.

Upon arriving at the cemetery a procession was formed and the march proceeded to the graves of the fallen. Quite a large number were present besides the organizations above named and the exercises were carried out very feelingly.

They consisted of the impressive G. A.
R. ritual and began with the bugle call
"The Reveille."

The roll of honor was read by Col. J.
F. Maloney and prayer was offered by May J. Fennell.

The decoration of the graves of the soldiers and sailors, who gave up their lives for their country, throughout the cemetery were then discussed, beautiful flowers being laid upon the last resting places tenderly and lovingly.

At the conclusion of this feeling day the members of the Women's Relief Corps took seats in the barge and returned to the city, while the comrades of the G. A. R. and escort took electric cars.

All of the organizations reached headquarters in due time and were dismissed by the several commanders.

Early in the evening the organizations again assembled at their halls for the closing ceremonies of Memorial Day and shortly before 8 o'clock marched to City Hall to listen to the orations and other exercises arranged for the occasion.

A large number of the comrades of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps which were very interesting and impressive will be found upon the third page of this morning's issue.

At 11 A. M. the G. A. R. comrades de-spilled the graves of fallen comrades in the forenoon and in the afternoon exercises were held at the church with much success. There was a large attendance of the towns people. The program
